The Pinot Blanc berry reaches the pinnacle maturity and flavor as summer changes into fall, carrying with it one of the purest delights of the summer: stone fruit. The defining character in this 2014 wine is similar to the heart of a ripe peach, slightly tart at its pit. White, gold-en-hued in color, aromas of faint cinnamon stick and soft lemon peel give way to a crisp acidity on the palate. Subtle notes of melon, apricot and dried nut also add to the sensory experience.

With its complexity, comes diversity. This is both a delightful warm weather sipping wine, and also has the ability to pair with sea foods, inventive salads, and dare we say, a roast or steak!
